LET HIM MEDDLE.

The News-Leader asks:

"Why should President Roosevelt interfere in the telegraph strike? He has no more right than any other citizen to meddle in it. It is an illustration of the dangerous tendencies of the time that so many commercial bodies, as if instinctively, turn to the central power at Washington for relief from all troubles and redress from all grievances."

Then it closes with pious resignation, "Nothing can be done but to await the result and to endure until one side or the other tries and yields," admitting, as is too evident, that in the meanwhile the public will suffer severely.

Society has become a most complex organism, with interlacing threads reticulating from center to circumference. No man, no business, no interest liveth to himself or itself or so dieth. All parts of this great country are correlated and intimately blended. "But now are they many members, yet but one body, and whether one member suffer, all the members suffer with it." In binding in sensitive touch all sections and every diversified and ramifying occupation and important interest is no agency so potential for the good or evil as the electric wire. As an approved means by intercourse amongst business men it is indispensable and for the operation of railroads, that most vital industrial force in existence, it is simply a sine qua non. Tie up the railway and the country is strangled; let the keys cease to tick and the cars stand on the track. Now shall all this evil come to pass when remediable by the interposition of the President through his good offices and kindly mediation? We say no, and we are not squeamish if he steps into the arena, panoplied in his most excellent sense and love of fair play and strengthened by the prestige of former industrial victories and the enchantment of his great office, either at the instance of the contending parties or the insistent solicitation of the long suffering public or on his own strenuous motion. No one pretends that he can speak ex cathedra, or is in anywise clothed with power by virtue of his office. No more is King Edward specifically authorized to act as foreign minister of Great Britain and formulate treaties of amity between his and other governments, yet it is an open diplomatic secret that his visits to the potentates of Europe relax dangerous tensions, engender friendships and render measurably sure the peace of the world. We are aware of no better way in which Roosevelt can use his illustrious position than in composing the difference between the struggling parties in the present fight. We know of no service he can just at present render the business interest of this land which will be hailed with more acclaim than to settle this controversy to the satisfaction of all parties. He can then lay the achievement beside the victory he won when he "meddled" in the coal strike, — Richmond Journal.

A TRIP TO YORKTOWN.

On Thursday last Mr. Calvin Handy and Sam Hudgins gave a delightful launch party. About 9:30 A. M. we left Pepper Creek with the following on board. Misses Bertie, Laura, Mae, Gertie and Della Hudgins; Hattie, Ellen and Louise Brooks, Mae and Lottie Hutson, Carrie and Julia White, Nellie and Nannie Thomas, Georgie Walker, Maggie Adams and Emma Jarvis and Messrs. Calvin and Gilbert Handy, Clifton, Vernon, John S. and Marvin Hudgins, Guy Morgan, Joe Thomas, George, Walter and Grover Burroughs, Ollie and Sam Hutson, Carl, Jimmie and Logan Snow, Paul Walker, George Thomas and Ed Davis. We started for Yorktown, reaching the pier, landed with basket in hand and were soon seated under the shade of the trees. Dinner was spread, and such a feast—sandwiches, chicken in abundance, pickles, rolls, salads, cake, crackers, apples, grapes, chocolates and cream. After a hearty repast the remains were gathered up and put on board the launch. They then started to explore the town so prominent in history and visited the Cave of Cornwallis. It is two rooms hewn out of the bank which was used by Cornwallis as a safe refuge in time of danger. Went through the Nelson House—every one who knows of Yorktown remembers this place. Stood on spot where Cornwallis surrendered to the American Commander-in-Chief, Gen. Geo. Washington. This is now marked by a granite monument, erected in 1895 through the instrumentality of patriotic citizen, visited the first Custom House in America and other places of interest, then leaving for New Point Beach. After eating the fragments left from dinner we separated, each gentleman finding the girl of his choice for the stroll around the beach which was very enjoyable. We boarded the launch about 10, started for home and were entertained on board with songs from Miss Ida Hudgins. Arrived home near bedtime, every one delighted with the trip, and thanking Messrs. Hudgins and Handy for their generous hospitality. Little Leafy.

Men Past Sixty in Danger.

More than half of mankind over sixty years of age suffer from kidney and bladder disorders, usually enlargement of prostate glands. This is both painful and dangerous, and Foley's Kidney Cure should be taken at the first sign of danger, as it corrects irregularities and has cured many old men of this disease. Mr. Rodney Burnett Rockport, Mo., writes: I suffered enlarged prostate gland and kidney trouble for years and after taking two bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure I feel better than I have for twenty years, although I am now 91 years old. #### OBITUARY.

William M. Fitchett.

Our hearts are made sad by the death of Wm. M. Fitchett, who died August 11, 1907. Our loved one is no longer a resident of earth. His spirit has gone to God who gave it. He had been in declining health for many months, being confined to his bed for eight weeks. The sad end came Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, at his residence. He was sixty-seven years and four months old. From his boyhood he was the soul of honor and of truthfulness. Though quiet and earnest in disposition, he possessed the power to bring things to pass; in all of his words and deeds he was honest courageous and pure. Intensely practical, he went about every task which he undertook with the most methodical care, and his work of every kind was characterized by the utmost accuracy. As a husband and father, he was devoted to the welfare of his loved ones, and loved them with the tenderest affection. His friendship and hospitality knew no bounds and it was his delight to do a kind act to all the needy and deserving. Mr. Fitchett was a member of Locust Grove Church. He is survived by a widow, Mrs. Lucy E. Fitchett, one son, B. Leon Fitchett, eight daughters, Mrs. J. W. D. Haynes, Mrs. A. Gray Mrs. T. C. Thompson, Misses Lucy O., Mollie Belle, Blanche, Carrie Lillian and Esther Monroe Fitchett. The funeral took place Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at home, conducted by his pastor, Rev. Duke, his text being, "If a man die, shall he live again?"

Job 14-14. The beautiful hymns "Rock of Ages" and "Christians Good-night," were sung. "Rock of Ages" being his favorite hymn. The high esteem in which he was held was attested by the large and tearful concourse of friends who followed his body to its last resting place, Locust Grove Church yard. Full of years and honors he has passed from scenes of earthly activity to the realms beyond, and parted from loved ones here below to clasp hands with others across the narrow stream. B. Marie.

Howard Lee Sibley.

Our hearts go out in deepest sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Sibley in the loss of their little baby boy, Howard Lee, nearly 10 months old. The parents are grief stricken at their loss—a sweet little bud cut down so early in life. His little soul passed from earth to Heaven last Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The burial exercises were conducted by the Rev. Giles B. Cooke at Kingston, Sunday, at 1:30, and there his little body was laid to rest. A little one from us has gone, A voice we love is still; A place is vacant in our home, Which never can be filled.

INFORMATION WANTED.

The following letter from Mr. W. Smith, of Michigan, will explain itself. We have no doubt the gentleman will be able to get the desired information from some of our old-time people.

Editor of The Journal.

I am about to publish an extensive work dealing with the postage stamps issued by the Confederate States and different southern cities in 1861-5.

My information is very meagre concerning the stamps issued in 1861, by the postmasters of the following Virginia places: Danville, Emory, Fredericksburg, Greenwood, Petersburg, Mathews, Marion, Lynchburg, Pittsylvania, Pleasant Shade and Salem. For this reason I would be very thankful to receive information bearing on the subject, and to hear from any one having or used specimens of these stamps in their possession, which might be purchased for the purpose of illustration. I should be under a great obligation to you, if you would kindly invite information from you readers. Thanking you in anticipation. Yours Truly,

W. SMITH,
